COVID-19 forces cancellation of summer events

During Monday's Committee of the Whole we announced the cancellation of our annual Fourth of July celebration. I don't think it came as a huge shock, due to the enormous challenges posed by COVID-19. Keeping you and your family safe is the foundation for all our decisions.

So then it won't come as a complete surprise that we are also cancelling Renton River Days, which this year included the Multicultural Festival, and Cruz the Loop.

I realize cancelling these three major summertime events is disappointing, but I believe it's the most responsible decision for everyone's safety.

We are still evaluating the possibility of opening at least a portion of the Henry Moses Aquatic Center and will have a final decision by May 1. We are committed to having lifeguards at both Gene Coulon Memorial Beach Park and Kennydale Beach Park, if allowed under the governor's "Stay Home, Stay Healthy" order.

Canceling these large events will allow us to work on planning smaller neighborhood celebrations throughout our city. The Recreation and Neighborhoods division is working hard to plan these events and I'll have details in future newsletters and on our social media channels.

We're also interested in hearing your feedback and ideas on how we can partner to make these events an example of how we can adapt, change and succeed as a Renton community.

Department updates

At Monday's Committee of the Whole, administrators gave updates on how their departments have adjusted to dealing with COVID-19. Here are some highlights.

Community and Economic Development

- Moved completely off-site but continue to process permits, review applications, perform inspections and support the business community.
- Transitioned several staff to work directly with businesses to help with their needs.
- Recently completed outreach to all local restaurants and plan another outreach to all businesses.
- Used funds from Port of Seattle to provide businesses with technical resources and support.
- Have posted the "Renton Minute," highlighting businesses that are open.

Community Services

- Senior survey showed 25-30 seniors did not have access to meals on the weekend. Now providing meals to them as well as some Renton Housing Authority tenants.
- Recreation and Neighborhoods division is putting final touches on programs for the community that respect social distancing.
- Boat launch at Gene Coulon Memorial Beach Park is open, as boating is allowable under the governor's "Stay Home, Stay Healthy" order. However, the trailer lot is only for vehicles with boat trailers. Those vehicles not attached to a trailer will be ticketed.
- Liberty Park has security fencing around the skate park and plywood over the basketball hoops. Wood chips have also been blown into the skate park.
- The community garden will open. A schedule will be determined and the number of people using it any one time will be limited.

Public Affairs/2020 Census

- Members of the Mayor's Inclusion Task Force have been providing food and masks to our hospital workers and first responders, helping with the Census, and just being there to get the word out.
- Census 2020 return rate for Renton is 56.7%, the highest self-response rate in South King County.
- Starting comprehensive outreach on the three highest-rated Hispanic stations in the state.
- Inserting census flyers in drive-thru food banks boxes this week and in Viet-Wah Market grocery bags
- Continuing to provide incentives from Viet-Wah Market, Santa Fe Mexican Grill and other Renton business to encourage those that haven't yet fill out their census.
- Launching a census art contest for students on why the census is important to them.

Renton Police

- Positive reaction to social media campaign showing "Renton businesses are open."
- Started an online story time with officers reading children's books.
- Responding to violations of social distancing guidelines as schedules allow. Most complaints so far have been families who lived in same house.
- Have an adequate supply of Personal Protective Equipment, thanks in part to donations from the community. Looking to share excess with city workers.

Renton Regional Fire Authority

- Personal Protective Equipment supply is in good shape.
- Have responded to 36 COVID-19 calls; six were confirmed.
- Bracing for unknown financial impact and have placed a freeze on hiring, training and capital expenses.

Federal/Regional Resources

- Renton is joining with other cities prior to approaching King County about receiving funding from the CARES Act. Appears that the county will receive a minimum of $260 million. Funds must be used to offset "necessary expenses" related to COVID-19.
- Working in partnership with Associated of Washington Cities, National League of Cities, other cities and local governments to ensure that a fourth phase federal COVID-19 relief package contains direct and flexible funding for all cities.

Renton Regional Community Fund makes first round of grants

The Renton Regional Community Fund has made its first round of grants from its COVID-19 response fund. In this initial round of dispersing funds, priorities were basic needs and Renton communities most impacted by racial inequities.

The Renton organizations receiving help are:

- REACH for general operating for their wrap-around services.
- Babies of Homelessness for supplies as they deliver diapers and other needed products to low-income/homeless families.
- Vision House for general operating support as they work with their families, particularly those with mental and emotional needs.
- Communities In Schools - Renton & Tukwila for their emergency fund for gas and food cards, etc.
- Urban Family for working with families in Skyway.
- South King Food Fighters to serve weekend meals to families in Renton and Tukwila.

To date the community fund has raised just over $50,000 and is working to raise more to meet the needs of our community. Visit their website if you'd like to help.

Governor outlines potential steps to reopen the economy

Gov. Inslee held a press conference and addressed the state's COVID-19 response, and potential next steps in reopening the economy. The governor did not include a specific date for restrictions being lifted or details on how the economy might reopen, but did stress that it would not be a "switch" but rather a gradual "dial." He noted that without continued social distancing measures and robust testing, there was a danger of a rebound based on current modeling.

King County invests $1 million in engagement and outreach

Late Monday, King County's Office of Equity and Social Justice Community Response Fund announced an investment of $1 million to 39 community-based organizations and ethnic media to help ensure residents have timely and accurate information about disease prevention.

Inspections - Building and Development Engineering

Community and Economic Development Department (CED) has been receiving questions from homeowners and contractors regarding how the city is interpreting the construction-related provisions of Gov. Inslee's Stay Home, Stay Healthy Proclamation and related guidance issued by the Governor's Office.

- CED has interpreted the Stay Home, Stay Healthy order to deem new residential and commercial construction as non-essential activities, except that construction of public projects (such as public affordable housing projects) and public components of private projects (such as utilities and streets intended for turnover to the city) are essential activities. Furthermore, CED has interpreted the Stay Home, Stay Healthy order to allow construction related to the order's list of essential activities including supply chain for goods, services, and healthcare.
- Under these interpretations, CED will continue its physical inspections associated with the following city-issued permits:
  - Building permits for occupied residential structures necessary to avoid damage or unsafe conditions;
  - Building permits for buildings that are a necessary component of the community's supply chain for goods, services, and healthcare;
  - Engineering permits for facilities intended to be made part of the city's public infrastructure. Such facilities include water, sanitary sewer, and stormwater utilities intended to be transferred to the city at completion and street improvements intended to be transferred to the city at completion.
- Although CED will not be performing physical onsite inspections for new unoccupied homes or other projects not falling into the above list, some inspections can be accomplished virtually. If you are interested in more information about virtual inspections, please contact the Building Division: 425-430-7200.
- These interpretations are valid as of March 30, 2020 under the governor's guidance in effect as of that date. Please note that these interpretations are subject to change as more information becomes available regarding the efforts to contain COVID-19 or if further guidance is issued by the governor's office.
