

COVID-19 Update

from Mayor Armondo Pavone

Friday, May 1, 2020 / Issue: 26

Click to learn more...

With information regarding COVID-19 continually being updated, I've decided to publish this newsletter to share what we know with the residents of Renton. In each edition our team will bring you the latest updates from around the city as well as information from county, state and federal officials and agencies.

Google Translation available on website. For additional translation services contact communications@rentonwa.gov.

The Recreation and Neighborhoods division practiced for next week's "Chalk Your Walk" event by decorating the sidewalk in front of the Renton Community Center. Distribution of chalk will continue over the weekend.

Governor extends "Stay Home, Stay Healthy"; announces phase-in plan to restart economy

Gov. Inslee today announced an extension of his "Stay Home, Stay Healthy" order at least through May 31. He also announced a four-phased approach designed to gradually reopen the state's economy. The governor indicated that there would be a minimum of three weeks between phases and that the decision to move from one phase to the next would be driven by available science and data.

	1 Phase 1	2 Phase 2	3 Phase 3	4 Phase 4
High Risk Populations*	Continue to Stay Home, Stay Healthy	Continue to Stay Home, Stay Healthy	Continue to Stay Home, Stay Healthy	Resume public gatherings with proper distancing
Recreation	None	All outdoor recreation activities from State Parks to public trails and beaches	Outdoor group recreation activities	Resume all recreational activity
Gatherings (social, spiritual)	None	Outdoor with no more than 10 people and 6 feet apart	Outdoor with no more than 10 people	Allow gatherings with 10 people
Travel	Only essential travel	Expanded non-essential travel within the state	Expanded non-essential travel out of state	Continue non-essential travel
Business/ Employers	Essential businesses only	Expanded manufacturing, construction, and other businesses	Expanded to 75% capacity for many businesses	Resume all businesses with proper distancing

This comes on the heels of his lifting of restrictions on building construction projects and the return of many recreational activities starting Tuesday. The lifting of these restrictions is welcomed, but it comes with a caveat: the governor was able to relax his restrictions because of the efforts you have made to leave home only when necessary and then adhering to social distancing rules. Now is not the time to relax your efforts. Public Health – Seattle & King County posted an informative article outlining the risks of relaxing social distancing too early which I think is still appropriate today.

So, if you plan to go play a round at Maplewood next week or walk through one of our parks or trails this weekend, please maintain proper distancing. That way we'll be able to look back at these steps as the start of our way back and not simply as an aberration.

Employees' health and safety is our primary concern

On Monday, our public works water, surface water, wastewater, streets, fleet and transportation maintenance employees will return to a 40-hour work week.

I want our employees to know that their health and safety is my primary concern. Any employee who lets us know that they are a high risk individual (defined by the CDC as anyone over 65 years of age, and people of any age who have certain chronic underlying health conditions), will receive certain accommodations that are based on both the Governor's Proclamation and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Our Human Resources/Risk Management (HRRM) department developed an accommodations process that must be followed prior to a high-risk worker returning to the workplace. We notified all employees of the process earlier today. If you have questions, our HRRM team will have the answers.

I want all our employees to know how very proud and grateful I am for your dedication to our residents, whether you're working from your home or your work site. I am working daily with the leadership team to make decisions that are in your best interests as well as the interests of our community.

Communities In Schools COVID-19 fund can use your help

Communities In Schools Renton-TukwilaCo (CIS) has been true to one mission since their inception: serving the needs of the most vulnerable students in our schools. I have witnessed their dedication firsthand as a volunteer in their mentoring program.

Their mission became more difficult when COVID-19 hit because the families they serve struggled to provide shelter and food before the pandemic and those struggles have multiplied since.

To help, CIS established a "COVID-19 Emergency Fund" in mid-March. Thanks to our generous community they have fulfilled 256 requests totaling just over $37,000, helping ease those fears for many.

Earlier today, Jaime Greene, CIS's executive director, told me that based on their average weekly requests, they have enough funds to last only another two weeks. They can certainly use your help as they continue to provide for our at-risk students. I hope you will consider making a donation.

CED updates operations based on governor's new construction order

The governor's phase I construction re-start plan has raised questions from both homeowners and contractors about implementation. In response, our Community and Economic Development staff have updated the inspections process (below) and have a section on the plan's workplace health and safety requirements.

CED will perform either physical onsite or virtual inspections for existing construction projects covered under phase I. Whenever possible, virtual inspections will be accomplished. Call the Building Division at 425-430-7200 for more information.

Chalk Your Walk

We had the first round of free chalk distribution earlier today for next week's "Chalk Your Walk." There are four more this weekend:

- Sat., May 2 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Kennydale Elementary (1700 NE 28th St.) Cascade Elementary (16022 116th Ave. SE)
- Sun., May 3 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Highlands Elementary (2720 NE 7th St.) Maplewood Heights (130 Jericho Ave. NE)

Chalk Your Walk will have daily themes and will be a great way for Renton residents of all ages and abilities to show off their creative side through sidewalk/driveway masterpieces.

Inspections - Building and Development Engineering

Community and Economic Development Department (CED) has been receiving questions from homeowners and contractors regarding how the city is implementing the construction-related provisions of Gov. Inslee's Governor's Phase 1 construction restart plan and related guidance issued by the Governor's Office.

CED will be performing physical onsite and virtual inspections for any existing construction projects pursuant to the Phase 1 requirements. Whenever possible, virtual inspections will be accomplished. If you are interested in more information about virtual inspections, please contact the Building Division: 425-430-7200.

- Governor's Phase 1 construction restart job site requirements

The safety plan was developed as part of a working group that included contractors and workers. The plan includes requirements related to safety training, physical distancing, PPE, sanitation and cleanliness, monitoring employees for symptoms, and logging job site visitors. The governor did not announce restart plans for any other industry or activity.

Workplace safety and health complaints may be submitted to the L&I Call Center: (1-800-423-7233).

Prior to calling for an inspection please be sure you have met the minimum requirements necessary for an onsite inspection:

1. COVID-19 Site Supervisor

A site-specific COVID-19 Supervisor shall be designated by the contractor at every job site to monitor the health of employees and enforce the COVID-19 job site safety plan. A designated COVID-19 Supervisor must be present at all times during construction activities.

Exception: single-family residential job sites with 6 or fewer people on the site.

2. Posting of COVID-19 exposure control plan

Contractors are required to post at each job site a comprehensive COVID-19 exposure control, mitigation, and recovery plan. PPE utilization; on-site social distancing; hygiene; sanitation; symptom monitoring; incident reporting; site decontamination procedures; COVID-19 safety training; exposure response procedures; and a post-exposure incident project wide recovery plan.

A copy of the plan must be available on each job site during any construction activities and available for inspection by state and local authorities. Failure to meet posting requirements will result in sanctions, including the job being shut down.

3. Posting of Notice to Employees

All Contractors are required to post at each job site written notice to employees, subcontractors and government officials the Phase 1 work that will be performed at that job site and signed commitment to adhere to the requirements listed in this document.

4. Daily Attendance Log
