RE: Kennydale Lakeline Sewer System Improvement Project: Project update

Dear Kennydale Resident:

We apologize for the extended pause in communications about the Kennydale Lakeline Sewer System Improvement Project. We appreciate your active participation in the project and hope that it will continue. Since you last heard from us, the city and design team have been busy researching questions and incorporating property owner feedback as appropriate, while advancing the design.

The project has reached the preliminary (30%) design milestone and the city is reviewing the preliminary design plans, and cost estimates for the construction, operation, and maintenance of the new sewer system to replace the existing sewer system located in Lake Washington that serves your home. This is an important milestone that will allow us to further engage with you and other stakeholders in the project including Puget Sound Energy (PSE), King County, and state agencies that regulate work in or adjacent to Lake Washington.

We will continue to provide information and updates as the project progresses. This is a critical project to ensure the long-term viability and operability of a sewer system that serves your home, and we want homeowners to continue to be active partners in this project.

Please note that John Hobson has recently retired from the City of Renton. We are thankful for John's leadership at the city and for his work on the project. Joe Stowell, Wastewater Utility Engineering Manager, is now the project manager. If you have questions about the project moving forward, please contact Joe by emailing jstowell@rentonwa.gov or (425) 430-7212.

Sincerely,
