

PUTTING THE PIECES TOGETHER

Flood Fight Design Seminar

Design, Planning, and Methods

It is here! Severe weather in Washington during this time of the year often increases the possibility of hazards such as flooding. Planning in advance and implementing a flood fight plan will help protect your employees, assets and property and reduce your risk.

Attend this free seminar and learn the latest details about flood safety and the efforts underway to reduce the risk to people, property, businesses and tribal lands during this storm season. Learn how designing and planning a flood fight plan can reduce the severity of damage from flooding.

Date: Tuesday, December 1, 2009

Time: 1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Location: King County Office of Emergency Management
3511 NE 2nd St., Renton, WA

UPDATE

DUE TO THE OVERWHELMING INTEREST IN THIS TOPIC, REGISTRATIONS ARE NOW REQUIRED – TO REGISTER PLEASE

CONTACT: Lisa Johnson, WA State EMD
l.johnson3@emd.wa.gov
253-512-7043

We will host additional seminar(s) if needed.

Sponsored by:

Washington State Emergency Management Division
King County Office of Emergency Management
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers

